

Carolin Burlin, new CEO at Recab AB

Recab appoints new CEO

Carolin Burlin is appointed new CEO of Scandinavian specialist company Recab. Her appointment follows five years of employment with the company, primarily within Operations but also as HSEQ Director and, most recently, as General Manager for Sweden. This experience puts her in a good position to take the company forward. The passion, competence and drive of the people at Recab are second to none, and this unique position offers us an opportunity to grow. Together, we focus on our customers and business partners, as we know that good relations build success.

- In April 2018 Recab merged with Metric Sverige.
- We are well prepared for the increased demand for edge to cloud solutions within Industry 4.0 and Industrial IoT. Additionally, we contribute to a more sustainable society by offering solutions for Smart Cities and Green Buildings. The merger has broadened our customer base and has positioned Recab as a leading Scandinavian specialist company for complex and demanding applications.
- We have expanded and will relocate to larger facilities in Hamar, Norway. In the meantime, we will continue to grow organically and be open to acquisition.

This is Recab

Recab is a Scandinavian specialist company for complex applications, owned by technology trading group Addtech AB. Recab delivers innovative solutions within sensors, industrial communications and tailor-made industrial computers for the northern European market. Recab offers overall solutions from edge to cloud with world leading manufacturers within Embedded Computers Systems, Industrial Data Communications and Vision & Sensors. Recab operates in Sweden, Norway, Denmark and the UK from its head offices in Hägersten, Stockholm.

For more information please contact:

Annelie Ivansson, Marketing Manager

Annelie.ivansson@recab.com

+46 703 15 01 02

Recab AB

Västberga Allé 5
126 30 Hägersten

www.recab.se

Tel. + 46 8 683 03 00